 June 11 – July 29, 2017

Applicant's Name: _____

The Student Science Training Program (UF SSTP) is a seven week residential research participation program at the University of Florida. UF SSTP participants will be matched with a research faculty mentor and work in the assigned mentor's research laboratory for about 30 hours each week. Participants will also attend an interdisciplinary lecture series, take an Honor Interdisciplinary Research Seminar, and complete various academic assignments including writing a research paper, creating a research poster, and giving two research talks. SSTP participants take part in service projects, leadership development activities, socials, and fieldtrips throughout Florida. SSTP is a rigorous and fast paced program for academically talented, motivated, and mature students. For more information about the SSTP, please visit www.cpet.ufl.edu/sstp.

The above named student is applying for admission to the Student Science Training Program. The Academic Record Form is to be completed by a Guidance Counselor or appropriate school official.
